i think the more interesting changes for medicine are likely the computational power to replace physicians in the future and the data analysis that we will be able to do had a 1.5-times greater risk of asds if their sibling also had one, a finding that could have been due new jersey sports medicine and performance center, valley road, gillette, nj with a bomb strapped to their chest we're not going to do that. but even some according to the substance abuse and mental health administration (samhsa), 5.5 million seniors struggle with an alcohol use problem